Electric Cars

Hi my name is Felipe, I'm from Brazil and I'm crazy about cars, but in this podcast I'm going to talk about electric cars.

Summary :

In the last 10 years electric cars helps the environment. There are many benefits to consider buying an electric respect for the environment, higher efficiency, low cost of use and tax incentives. However some people don't believe that electric cars helps the environment because these people believe that battery is not good for the environment.
